Newport Utilities Water Conservation Alert Lifted

We are excited to announce that the previously-instated Water Conservation Alert has officially been lifted. Customers are no longer required to reduce their water usage. We recommend running the water until it is clear before using.

The Boil Water Alert is still in place until further notice.

Our water crews have been able to restore water service to 99% of our coverage areas.

If you remain without water at this time, please have patience as the water is making its way to you- this is not an instantaneous process.

A huge “Thank You” to our water crews and all who have assisted in helping us make the challenging, time-consuming repairs necessary to restore water to our customers.
